North Central District released one hundred ninety-six individuals from isolation from one hundred seventy-eight from Shelby County, five from Spencer County, five from Trimble County and eight from Henry County who monitored their symptoms and complied with a self-isolation agreement with the Health Department.

“With increased activity over the Memorial Day and 4th of July Holiday, COVID 19 cases in Kentucky are rising. As a result, it is critical that face coverings that cover the nose and mouth be worn when in public. This is one few and most powerful tools we have to slow the spread and combat COVID 19 until there is a vaccine.”, said Roanya Rice, Public Health Director of NCDHD
